

ANIMAL TALES

Children will relate to these charming illustrated stories about young animals who can't wait to do grown-up things. As they follow them on their journeys, young readers will learn how building skills such as patience, persistence, and self love will help them on their own life journeys.

Specifications:
Ages 5-8
 24 pages, 9¼ x 9¼", full color
$8.95 PAP

The Little Beaver Who Wanted to Build by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A young beaver named Tim has the same problem. He wants to build the best dam ever, but he still has some growing to do. Follow Tim as he grows up by the river and learns about patience!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7979-7 PAP

The Little Caterpillar Who Wanted to Fly by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A young caterpillar named Milo has the same problem. He wants wings so he can fly high in the sky, but he still has some growing to do. Follow Milo as he grows up in the garden and learns to love what he has at each stage of his journey!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7980-3 PAP

The Little Kangaroo Who Wanted to Jump by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A baby kangaroo named Willow has the same problem. She wants to jump higher than any kangaroo in Australia, but she still has some growing to do. Follow Willow as she grows up in the grasslands and learns to love what she has at each stage of her journey!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7981-0 PAP

The Little Lion Who Wanted to Roar by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A young lion named Rory has the same problem. He wants to roar like the largest lions, but he still has some growing to do. Follow Rory as he grows up in the African Savannah and learns to love what he has at each stage of his journey!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7982-7 PAP

The Little Monkey Who Wanted to Climb by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A baby monkey named Nala has the same problem. She wants to climb to the top of the tallest trees, but she still has some growing to do. Follow Nala as she grows up in the jungle and learns to keep on trying!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7983-4 PAP

The Little Penguin Who Wanted to Swim by William Anthony

Are there things you cannot do, but wish you could? A young penguin named Luna has the same problem. She wants to swim in the wide Antarctic waters, but she still has some growing to do. Follow Luna as she grows up on the ice and learns to never give up!

ISBN 978-0-7787-7984-1 PAP

