HISTORY

Lacrosse is the oldest team sport in North America.

A version of the game was first played by Native American tribes. They played on land that is now the northeastern United States and southeastern Canada.

A dentist from Canada created standard rules in 1867.

The first women's lacrosse game was played in Scotland in 1890.

FUN FACT

Lacrosse games played by Native Americans could have hundreds of players on each team.

Introduction:
Phonics is the relationship between letters and sounds. It is the foundation for reading words and decoding. A phonogram is a letter or group of letters that represents a sound. Students who need extra practice with phonics and sight words benefit from building their comprehension skills and become confident readers.

Activities:
BEFORE READING
Use your finger to underline the key phonogram in each word in the Words to Read list on page 2. Then, read the word. For longer words, look for ways to break the word into smaller parts (double letters, word I know, ending, etc.).
DURING READING
Use sticky notes to annotate for understanding. Write questions, make connections, summarize each page after it is read, or draw an emoji that describes how you felt about different parts.
AFTER READING
Share and discuss your sticky notes with an adult or peer who also read the story.

Key Word/Phonogram: roof

Words to Read:
