Art Skills Lab

Reading Level: Gr. 4 Interest Level: Gr. 4-7
Specifications: 8½ x 10¾" • 32 pages

Art Skills Lab helps children expand their creativity by showing them how to build art skills, and use tools and techniques across different mediums. Each book profiles well-known artists and examines their techniques to serve as examples. Skill-building projects give readers opportunities to learn how to use tools and apply techniques as they create original artwork.

Cryptid Guides: Creatures of Folklore

Reading Level: Gr. 5 Interest Level: Gr. 3-6
Specifications: 8½ x 10¾" • 32 pages

HIGH INTEREST

In folklore, there are many different types of made-up creatures, such as vampires, as well as what are known as cryptids—animals which may or may not exist—such as sea monsters. This highly entertaining series takes a serious look at the possibilities of existence for a number of legendary creatures. Special sections look at their origin stories, where in the world they are thought to exist, a timeline of their history and recorded sightings, and their place in literature and popular culture.

Go Quiz Yourself

Packed with facts on popular topics, these quiz books are a fun way to challenge memory skills. The information is presented in a range of interesting ways—timelines, info graphics, illustrations, and captions. Quiz questions at the end of each section will test the reader’s memory, understanding, and comprehension. They are an ideal companion resource for children studying for tests, but can also be used for fun by testing friends and family.

Haunted or Hoax?

Reading Level: Gr. 4 Interest Level: Gr. 3-6
Specifications: 8 x 10" • 32 pages

Although ghosts have never been scientifically proven to be real, tales of paranormal occurrences have been told since ancient times. This high-interest series uses a narrative approach to explore tales of haunted places around the world. Each title includes tales of "haunted" locations. Historical records and eyewitness accounts present the history and lore behind the claims of paranormal phenomenon. While some tales have been factually debunked, others remain unsolved. Decide for yourself whether you believe the evidence presented proves that paranormal activity occurred.

State Your Case

Reading Level: Gr. 5-6 Interest Level: Gr. 5-9
Specifications: 8 x 10" • 48 pages

An effective argument has many parts - including clear, well-supported claims, the use of credible evidence, the rebuttal of counterclaims, and a strong conclusion. Created to support Common Core State Standards for reading and writing argumentative texts, this informative and interesting series introduces the craft of argument writing to readers. Each book takes the reader through the parts of an argument, illustrating each concept using relatable examples, and allows readers to use what they have learned to evaluate the strength and credibility of arguments about a variety of issues, from homework requirements and school sports spending to robots in the workforce and healthy food choices. Includes Teacher's Guide.

Why Does Media Literacy Matter?

Reading Level: Gr. 6 Interest Level: Gr. 5-9
 Specifications: 7¼ x 9¼" • 48 pages

This timely series encourages readers to build the essential media literacy skills needed to become critical consumers of information, ideas, and news. The series examines core concepts including bias, who is represented and how, advertising and persuasion, and censorship. A media literacy toolkit highlights key strategies including methods for verifying sources and identifying media bias and tactics. Writing prompts, real-world examples, and question boxes support readers as they learn how to critically and meaningfully consume different forms of media.

Earth's Natural Biomes

This spectacular series features stunning images of the natural world. Supporting geography curriculum, each title explores where each biome is found, what the area's geography is like, the special adaptations of the vegetation and animals, how people live in these regions, and how human influences on the environment impact life there. Fact File sections break down the key features and interesting stories of life in each biome. Special sections describe the resources of these biomes, threats to the environment, and what the future holds.

Ecosystems Research Journal

This series gives readers a close-up look at precious, sometimes remote, and often threatened ecosystems and habitats around the world. Using a report style of writing, the narrator in each book is a fictional researcher sent on a mission to record in a journal their observations about species and environments. Each title connects an ecosystem's health to human activity and livelihoods, and allows readers to see how we are a vital part of our living environments. Full-color photos, maps, graphs, and simple status report boxes help readers understand the complex issues involved in ecosystem research.

Impact on Earth

The modern world is full of remarkable developments that have improved life for millions of people, from cars and plastic packaging to food-delivery services and social media. However, many of these developments come at a considerable cost. This series looks at both the positive aspects of modern developments as well as the problems they create, such as pollution, using up resources, overcrowding, and cyber-bullying. The efforts being made to reduce some of the most negative effects are highlighted in features such as "Tech Solution" and "Emergency Case Studies," along with suggestions for readers on what they can do to help. Free downloadable Teacher's Guide.

Protecting the Oceans

Reading Level: Gr. 5 Interest Level: Gr. 4-7
Specifications: 8 x 10" • 32 pages

In its Sustainable Development Goals for 2030, the United Nations states a healthy Earth requires healthy oceans - and life below water must be protected. Protecting the Oceans is a timely series that explains the threats to our oceans and explores ocean action being taken around the world. Readers will learn how we depend on oceans and what sustainable use of ocean resources looks like. They will also discover the effects of climate change and pollution on oceans. Each book uses infographics to clearly communicate key facts and figures, and highlights human efforts to protect oceans, inspiring readers to take ocean action in their communities. A free downloadable Teacher's Guide is available on the Crabtree website.

Crazy Creatures

NEW FOR FALL 2024

Reading Level: Gr. 4-5 Interest Level: Gr. 4-6
Specifications: 7 x 10" • 24 pages

The animal world has many crazy creatures. Capybaras can sleep in the water. The duck-billed platypus has venom-filled spurs. Colugos can glide from treetop to treetop. The purple frog lives almost its whole life underground. The wood frog's heart stops beating in winter. The Argentine horned frog is also known as the Pac-Man frog. The magnificent frigatebird can fly for two months without ever landing. The emu can't fly at all, but it can run super-fast. Engaging full-color photographs along with exciting text encourage even reluctant readers to learn more about these fascinating creatures.

Choosing Democracy

U.S. President Abraham Lincoln described democracy best, as “government of the people, by the people, and for the people.” Choosing Democracy examines the development of this form of government and how it has transformed the world over time. Developed to engage, each title explores how democracy functions and dives deep into the concepts of freedom, justice, and the rule of law. Students are challenged to involve themselves in protecting rights and discerning threats to democracy from reasonable criticisms.

Specifications: 8½ x 11" • 32-48 pages

The Disaster Alert! series explains the science behind the forces in nature, as well as human-made forces, that create catastrophic events such as hurricanes Harvey, Irma, Maria, and Nate, and the devastating wildfires in California and western North America. Fascinating text and astonishing photographs highlight the types of destruction these events cause and how they affect peoples' lives, the people who study, forecast, and observe them, and how to stay safe during a natural disaster. Each book also features a simple activity or suggestion for observation.

Disaster Diaries

Reading Level: Gr. 4-5 Interest Level: Gr. 3-6
Specifications: 8 x 10" • 32 pages

Disaster Diaries is a series of narratives inspired by the accounts of many disaster victims. Written from a young person's perspective, each title follows the story of what a fictional family experienced during and after a real, specific disaster. Clear, simple nonfiction text also explains what causes each kind of disaster, in what parts of the world they usually happen, who helps prevent them or clean up after, and how some natural events can be predicted.

Leaving My Homeland and Leaving My Homeland: After the Journey

These important series are a timely examination of refugee crises around the world. Leaving My Homeland offers sensitive narratives of refugee experiences, drawn from and inspired by the accounts of many refugees. Written from a child's perspective, each title follows the story of one child and his or her family. Clear, simple text explains the reasons why people must flee their homelands, what it means to be a refugee, and the challenges faced by refugees around the world. Many of the stories are continued in Leaving My Homeland: After the Journey a thoughtful and important look at how refugee children and their families face and overcome challenges after fleeing their homelands. Each fictional story is interwoven with accessible, nonfiction text, which updates readers on the current conflict in that country and ways in which new countries offer support to newcomers.

Important United States Moments

There are many events in the history of the United States that made an impact. For example, everything changed after April 30, 1803, when France agreed to sell the vast Louisiana Territory to the U.S. for a bargain price. The size of the country instantly doubled, and America's frontier expanded westward. How did the United States change after this and other key events in U.S. history?
